

Update

President's Message

Dear Colleagues:

Like many other healthcare workers, you probably have a busy schedule filled with both work and personal interests, or possibly even another job. Our lives can be so demanding that we find it difficult to spend time on ourselves. Maintaining an optimal level of wellness is crucial to live a quality life. Wellness matters because everything we do and every emotion we feel relates to our well-being. In turn, our well-being directly affects our actions and emotion. Therefore, it is important for everyone to achieve optimal wellness in order to decrease stress, reduce the risk of illness and ensure positive interactions.

Healthy individuals are not merely people with the absence of disease or illness, but live in a state of physical, mental, and social well-being. Wellness has been defined more as the action an individual takes to meet the above definition of health. There are broad dimensions of wellness but most relate to living with one's body, mind and spirit in a state of optimal balance. Each person makes the choices for their well-being.

Many programs exist to help ourselves achieve wellness. These programs want to engage members to become proactive in managing their personal health and wellness through education, behavior modification and incorporating lifestyle changes. Health and wellness programs are believed to help maintain a healthy workforce and reduce healthcare costs by identifying, addressing and reducing health risks before they turn into significant medical issues. The mission of wellness programs is to find ways that help stressed, hard-working employees lead happier, healthier and more productive lives.

Achieving wellness may include education on a chronic disease, nutrition, exercise/active living, meditation avenues and health coaching. The programs should use the elements from Healthy People 2010 to develop comprehensive programs. Even if not part of a workplace program, everyone has access to build their own lifestyle to achieve a balance with work and life.

Some things to promote wellness may include increasing physical activity. We should think of active movement for a sustained amount of time for a select number of days a week rather than calling it exercise. Not everyone loves to exercise but everyone should be moving actively throughout the day. Just 30 minutes a day helps with the physical and emotional stresses of our lives. On top of that adding a meditation component can help to relieve stress. Yoga incorporates the active and meditation components while one is performing the movements. It can also add flexibility and strength to our muscles.

If you are planning to attend Congress this year, consider signing up for the ENT-NF activity. You will receive the t-shirt while helping to support the Foundation and promoting your wellness activity. The normal walk attended by many members is always enjoyed early on Sunday morning. But for those that don't enjoy getting up early, consider wearing your t-shirt while you enjoy an afternoon walk/run outside or on the treadmill. You may want to swim in the hotel pool, wear your t-shirt coming and going to the pool. Supporting the Foundation and achieving your activity helps everyone.

Keep Building the Best in ORL Nursing!

Board of Director

Deborah Strike BSN RN CORLN

- Active member of the local Heartland SOHN chapter and American Cleft Palate Association (ACPA), and have attended the annual meetings for both of these organizations.
- I have submitted for publication in the upcoming ORL-Head and Neck Nursing a feature article - "American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery Foundation Clinical Practice Guideline: Improving Nasal Form and Function after Rhinoplasty" and for the Products of Interest column - Specialty Feeding Bottles.
- For the ACPA I have assisted with the revision of the publications: "Neonatal Cleft Lip and Palate: Instructions for Newborn Nurseries" and "Letter to the Parent of a Child with a Cleft" factsheet. These publications are written for patient and family education, will be available on the ACPA website, and may also be available in print form.
- I submitted documentation for the Professional Recognition (PRP) Application February 2018 and was awarded the silver level for the 4th consecutive year. The PRP is a program to recognize the accomplishments of the direct care staff nurse and to incentivize them to stay engaged in direct patient care as they support safety, quality, and research. The program will compensate RNs who consistently go "above and beyond." Examples of going above and beyond include the following (but not limited to):
 - precept new nurses and nursing students
 - engage in quality improvement and/or evidence based practice projects
 - participate in committees and councils
 - promote service excellence
 - demonstrate involvement in professional activities

Other involvement and accomplishments include:

- "EPIC superuser" for our clinic and attend additional training to then provide education to otolaryngology nursing staff on new applications and developments in usage of our electronic medical record system
- Representative for the nursing/otolaryngology clinic and present on the professional practice model for the Magnet surveyors during their July visit
- Member of the University of Iowa (UIHC) Staff Nurse Education Committee
- Providing in-service education for the Stead Family Children's Hospital new staff orientation bi-annually on the subject of cleft care/pediatric otolaryngology

June 2018, I celebrated 35 years of service at University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics.

Board of Director

Laurie Turner MSN RN CORLN

After thirty-eight years in otolaryngology head and neck surgery practice, I will be retiring as nurse manager of one of the largest academic otolaryngology departments in the nation. The next chapter of my career will be geared towards special projects to improve the delivery of care to our unique patient population.

This year will fulfill my Board of Director term for SOHN. It has been an honor and privilege to collaborate with dedicated and caring nurses that have given their time and expertise to move the organization forward. During my second year as a board member I attended both the fall board and mid-winter board meeting where important initiatives were advanced. The addition of online voting, educational modules and website enhancements the SOHN will be able to reach those nurses unable to attend national and local meetings. The organizations leadership recognizes the need to advance our specialty by listening and encouraging increased membership and engagement. Thank you for the opportunity to serve and share my experience with others passionate about otorhinolaryngology.

Executive Director

Sandra L. Schwartz MS RN CORLN

During 2018 the SOHN board members faced continuing challenges created by economic constraints and increased pressure to do more with less, while still maintaining the Society's mission. Always striving to find the most creative and innovative means to support its members during tough economic times, SOHN focused its attention on offering new and enhanced resources to its membership (Comprehensive ORL Nursing Course Modules). The modules represent countless hours of work by dedicated SOHN members.

Financial Affairs

SOHN's financial status remains constant. The board has taken strategic steps to ensure the Society's financial integrity. Collaborated with Ramute Kemeza, SOHN Treasurer, on the financial activities of the Society and jointly developed the preliminary budget for board consideration. Made strategic suggestions to adjust the budget to allow for current economic conditions.

SOHN E-NEWS

This news vehicle offers the SOHN member up-to-date information about Society activities, specialty nursing events and new ORL clinical advances. Published monthly.

UPDATE/E-NEWS/ORL-Head and Neck Nursing

The Society's newsletter, Update continues to offer a strong presence online and an in-depth discussion and description of SOHN activities. Elimination of printing expenses continues to be an excellent cost savings measure. Served as editor of the Update, E-NEWS, the Congress Proceedings Book and managing editor of the journal. An application to be included in MEDLINE/PubMed was written and submitted in March 2018. ORL-Head and Neck Nursing was included in MEDLINE in 1993 for it was indexed in the International Nursing Index. Recently LSTRC (Literature Selection Technical Review Committee) has decided to review all journals with emphasis on "Creation of MEDLINE Citations Moving Completely to Publisher-Supplied Data". We are expecting the journal to be reviewed in October 2018.

Meetings

Meeting arrangements have been streamlined in order to reduce costs. An emphasis continues to be placed on our green initiatives. The Spring Seminar Series and the Pediatric Spring Program held in May at National Harbor, MD was successful with interesting topics and outstanding speakers. This smaller education venue continues to offer the personal touch and excellent opportunities for networking. As October draws near, final arrangements for the 42nd SOHN Annual Congress and Nursing Symposium are being implemented. An excellent educational program with a wide variety of topics and speakers has been planned, as well as an exciting array of social events. Our list of international attendees continues to grow. Registrations are arriving daily. The number of poster applications continues to run strong. Arranged housing, catering, meeting space, social events and venues, transportation and all financial aspects of the 42nd Annual Congress. Coordinated the arrangements (hotel, flights and catering) for the SOHN Midwinter Board Meeting, January, 2018 in Chicago, Illinois; the Congress Planning Meeting, November 2017 in Atlanta, Georgia; and the Nursing Organizations' Alliance Forum, November 2017 in Birmingham, Alabama and the SOHN Spring Seminar, May 2018 in National Harbor, Maryland.

Guidelines/Collegial Relations

Michele Farrington, Board Member and Chair of the Practice/Research Committee continues to represent SOHN on the American Academy of Otolaryngology and Head-Neck Surgery Foundation's Guideline Taskforce (GTF). Many dedicated and talented SOHN members have been instrumental in the development of the guidelines. The guideline project is an excellent example of collegiality and collaboration.

Our involvement allows SOHN to stand proudly with other specialty nursing organizations. SOHN's Practice/Research Committee continues to work on developing evidence-based guidelines/projects. Other projects are being explored.

Membership

Our Membership Enhancement Committee and Chapter Coordinator are working diligently to meet the needs of our members and chapters. Two new regions are developing chapters.

Education

An Intent to Apply Form for reaccreditation with ANCC was filed on May 1, 2018. SOHN's ANCC accreditation renewal application was submitted by July 1, 2018. An intense self-study document and activity reports were written to fulfill the reaccreditation requirements (Written by Wheeler and Schwartz and Formatted by Parker). An appraiser team from ANCC conducted a virtual review and site visit on July 30, 2018. ANCC will make their final decision this fall.

Communications

Corresponded with members and non-members via email. Answered questions about the Society and referred clinical questions to SIG Leaders or "experts" in the clinical area. Reviewed and approved NCBOHN applications for recertification by continuing education. Sent SOHN briefings and updates to the SOHN President, the SOHN Board, the SOHN leadership and the SOHN membership. Communicated with the chapter presidents individually and collectively. Corresponded frequently with executive directors of other specialty nursing organizations, AAO-HNS representatives and other ORL related organizations.

Fund Raising

Exhibitors are still sending in contracts. Multiple reminders were sent out this year. A marketing plan (Exhibitor's Prospectus) was developed and updated and included information for recruiting corporations to SOHN's Exhibit Area and sponsorship opportunities. Grant applications to Alcon, Medtronic, and others (written by Schwartz) are awaiting determination. Boston Medical will provide the writing padfolios. Grace Medical will provide raffle support and other supporters are anticipated.

Served as Executive Director of ENT-NF and NCBOHN

The SOHN Board has been diligent in updating the Society's Strategic Plan. Revisions are currently being made.

SOHN is secure in its organizational foundation and remains mindful of the dynamic economic climate. As the Society approaches its 42nd Anniversary, SOHN looks toward the future for strategies to advance its evidence-based projects and new resources to advance the specialty and education of its members.

Thank you to Cory Parker for her administrative support and thank you to you, the member for inspiring and challenging me each and every day. You are the heart and soul of SOHN.
