President's Message

Dear Esteemed SOHN members and Well-Wishers,

I write to you today with great pride and excitement as the President of Society of Otorhinolaryngology and Head-Neck Nurses. Our collective achievements in the field of Otolaryngology nursing practice have been remarkable, and I am inspired by the passion and dedication each one of you brings to our profession. Today, I want to take a moment to reflect on the current state of the science in Otolaryngology nursing practice.

In recent years, the science of Otolaryngology nursing has witnessed tremendous advancements and breakthroughs. Our collective efforts have led to a deeper understanding of the intricacies of disorders and conditions affecting the head and neck, enabling us to provide more comprehensive and personalized care to our patients. From innovative surgical techniques to cutting-edge interventions, minimally invasive and robotic surgery, immunotherapy and precision medicine, advances in endoscopic procedures, sleep medicine and upper airway surgery, and regenerative medicine and tissue engineering, we have made significant strides in improving outcomes and enhancing the quality of life for those we serve.

However, our journey does not end here. We stand at the precipice of limitless possibilities, ready to embark on new frontiers of discovery and innovation. The field of Otolaryngology nursing practice is ever-evolving, and it is our duty to embrace these changes and push the boundaries of what is possible. Let us dare to dream bigger, think bolder, and challenge ourselves to reach new heights of excellence.

To accomplish this, collaboration and interprofessional teamwork will be instrumental in propelling us forward. Otolaryngology nursing is a multidisciplinary field, and by working hand in hand with otolaryngologists, audiologists, speech-language pathologists, and other healthcare professionals, we can leverage our collective expertise to make even greater strides. Break down silos, foster partnerships, and create a collaborative environment that fosters innovation and excellence.

As we embrace the future, let us also keep our patients at the heart of everything we do. They entrust us with their health and well-being, and it is our responsibility to deliver the highest standard of care. Listen to their voices, advocate for their needs, and ensure that their experiences shape our practice and drive our research. Let us be the compassionate advocates and champions for our patients, empowering them to live their lives to the fullest.

Moreover, we must prioritize lifelong learning and professional development. The scientific landscape is constantly evolving, and it is crucial that we stay at the forefront of knowledge and innovation. Engage in continuous education, attend conferences and workshops, and immerse yourself in the latest research and advancements. Let us be the driving force behind groundbreaking discoveries and transformative care in Otolaryngology nursing.

Along those lines of lifelong learning and professional development, I am thrilled to extend a special invitation to each one of you. Join me at the upcoming Society of Otorhinolaryngology Head and Neck Nurses' 47th Annual Congress and Educational Symposium, taking place from September 29th to October 2nd in the vibrant city of Nashville, Tennessee.

This prestigious event promises to be an unparalleled gathering of experts, researchers, and practitioners in our field. The theme of the Congress, "Hitting the high notes," perfectly encapsulates our shared aspirations to push the boundaries of our practice, deliver exceptional care, and excel in every aspect of Otorhinolaryngology nursing.

Throughout the Congress, you will have the opportunity to immerse yourself in a multitude of educational sessions, engaging workshops, and inspiring keynote presentations. Immerse yourself in the latest advancements, exchange ideas with fellow professionals, and gain insights that will empower you to elevate your practice to new heights. Furthermore, the Congress will foster networking opportunities where you can connect with colleagues from around the world, building relationships and forging collaborations that will shape the future of our profession.

Nashville, known as the “Music City,” is the perfect backdrop for our Congress. With its rich cultural heritage and vibrant atmosphere, this city embodies the spirit of creativity and innovation that drives us forward. Experience the diverse music scene, indulge in local cuisine, and take in the sights and sounds of this extraordinary city.

I urge you to mark your calendars and make plans to attend the SOHN’s 47th Annual Congress and Educational Symposium. Registration is Open! Let us come together as a community, united in our passion for Otorhinolaryngology nursing, and harness the collective energy and knowledge to ignite a new era of excellence.

Together, we will hit the high notes, making a resounding impact on the future of our profession and the lives of those we serve. I eagerly look forward to welcoming you to Nashville, Tennessee, where we will embark on a transformative journey of growth, learning, and inspiration.

With anticipation and excitement,

Vinciya Pandian

Bylaws Committee Update

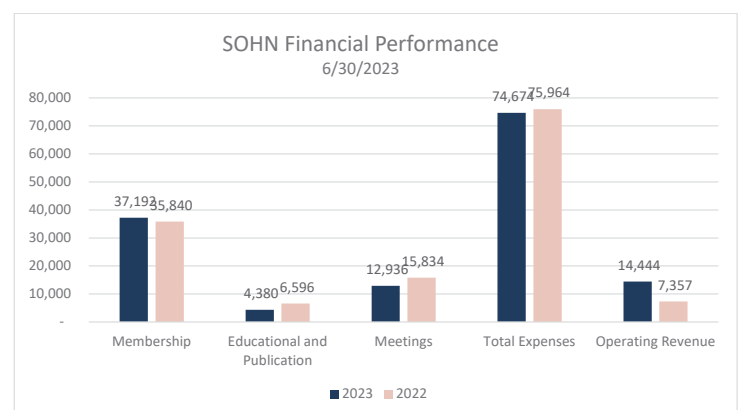

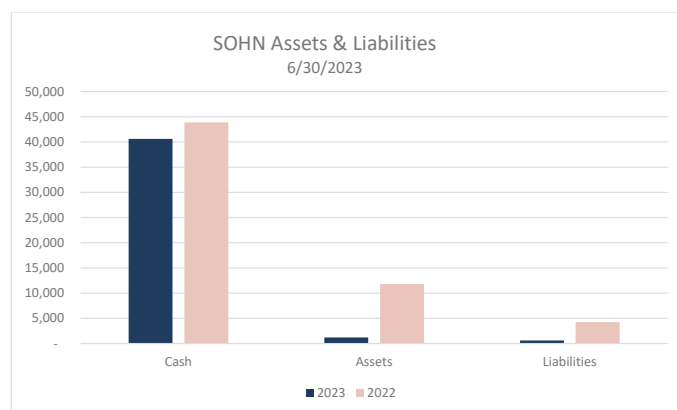

Wendy Mackey DNP APRN-BC CORLN

The Ear, Nose and Throat Nursing Foundation (ENT-NF) Bylaws were reviewed and updated by Wendy Mackey and Maria Colandrea in May 2023. There were several minor logistic updates made to the document, specifically the change in headquarter address, that some meeting are conducted via virtual platform, updated names of Nursing Practice and Research Committee and education committee titles.

Budget & Finance Committee Update

SOHN Quarterly Dashboard - June 2023

Chapter Coordinator Update

Lisa Lever BSN RN CORLN

The SOHN Board of Directors recently approved an updated more streamlined way of reporting the yearly Chapter activities. This process will satisfy the requirements for the annual Chapter report but will also include information for the Chapter Excellence Award that is awarded annually at Congress. Chapter reports have been submitted using the new reporting form and the Chapter Presidents will evaluate and make changes to this process during our meeting at Congress. We thank Sharon Jamison for her assistance in combining the two forms and making the process much easier to complete!

We have also made changes to the way Chapter dues are distributed. Many of us have found that it is very difficult to set up a banking account for our individual SOHN Chapters. There are many regulations associated with a non-profit organization with each state having its own variation of the rules. It is also necessary to change the "owner" of the individual bank account when the Treasurer or the designated member leaves office or the organization; again, setting up additional roadblocks for maintaining and opening individual Chapter bank accounts. When individuals renew their SOHN membership, their designated Chapter receives $5 of that fee for Chapter needs. A process has been developed to obtain funds from SOHN Headquarters. Each Chapter will have their funds available in the general SOHN account. When funds are used for a Chapter event, the Chapter Treasurer or their designee will complete a simple request asking for reimbursement of funds to a specific person, including the amount and a very brief explanation of what the funds were used for. The repayment of funds will then be sent to that person. If the individual Chapter does not use all their money at the end of the year, these funds will be carried over to the following year. This is not a "use it or lose it" situation. If your Chapter already has a bank account set up, you are able to keep this account. In this situation, the Chapter Treasurer would simply complete the request form asking for the Chapter dues to be sent for deposit to their bank account. We hope that this will simplify the management of individual Chapter dues, but it does require that each Chapter does submit their Annual Report for the funds to be released.

Leadership Transition and Call for Manuscripts: ORL Journal

Vinciya Pandian PhD MBA MSN ACNP-BC
FAANP FAAN FFMRC SI FCCM

This message comes with both gratitude and exciting news to share regarding our esteemed ORL Nursing journal.

After a year of exemplary service and dedication, it is with mixed emotions that we announce the stepping down of Ms. Margaret Hickey from her role as Editor-in-Chief. Margaret's unwavering commitment and tireless efforts have played a pivotal role in shaping the journal and elevating it to new heights. We express our deepest appreciation for her extensive contributions, which have left an indelible mark on the publication and the SOHN community as a whole.

As we navigate this transition, we are delighted to inform you that the ORL journal will continue to thrive and evolve. In order to embrace our roots and provide diverse perspectives, we have decided to return to our previous practices of having a guest editor for each issue, with a specific theme to guide manuscript solicitations. This approach will infuse fresh ideas and ensure the journal remains at the forefront of cutting-edge research and clinical insights.

With this in mind, we wholeheartedly invite each one of you to participate actively in this exciting venture. We are actively seeking new manuscripts covering a wide range of topics, including but not limited to:

1. Evidence-Based Practices (EBPs) and/or Quality Improvement projects in the field of ORL nursing.
2. Original research that pushes the boundaries of knowledge and understanding of ORL nursing.
3. Clinical pearls that offer valuable insights and practical solutions.
4. Thought-provoking poems that explore the human experience within our specialized domain.

Your contributions are vital in sustaining the richness and relevance of the ORL journal. As passionate professionals in this field, your expertise and experiences are invaluable, and we encourage you to submit your manuscripts for consideration.

Additionally, we also welcome your nominations and suggestions for potential guest editors, as their diverse expertise will shape the future issues of the journal. We currently have guest editors lined up until 2nd issue in 2024.

Please direct your manuscript submissions to <https://orl-headandnecknursing.scholasticahq.com/for-authors>, and nominations, and inquiries to info@sohnnurse.com. We look forward to receiving your valuable contributions.

Together, as a thriving community, we will continue to foster excellence, collaboration, and innovation within the ORL nursing realm through our cherished journal.

Thank you for being a part of this exciting journey, and we are eager to see the future of the ORL journal flourish with your exceptional work.

Core Curriculum

3rd edition of SOHN's Core Curriculum Textbook

This text is designed to be used by ORL-HN nurses. The book provides an overview of all aspects of nursing practice for the patient with an otolaryngologic problem or abnormality. It provides a foundation of knowledge for generalist and advanced practice nurses working in every ORL-HN practice setting. In addition, it serves as a basic text for students, nurses, administrators and nurse educators.

The cost for SOHN Members is $195 and $225 for Non-members. For SOHN Member pricing, please make sure to sign into your account on the SOHN website.

National Education Committee Update

Karen Ulmer MSN RN CORLN

SOHN, as an accredited provider of nursing continuing professional development (NCPD) by the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), is committed to providing the highest quality NCPD activities to advance nursing practice and improve outcomes. The SOHN provider unit works tirelessly to achieve these goals all year, including assisting local chapters and SIGS in facilitating their continuing nursing education (CNE) activities. Following is a summary of the current national-level NCPD activities.

SOHN presented the 37th Annual Spring Seminar as a virtual event May 4th and 5th. May 4th focused on pediatric ORL issues, while May 5th presented adult ORL content. Presentations were offered live on May 4th and 5th. Pre-recorded presentations were offered for asynchronous viewing for 6 weeks after the seminar has ended. Attendees were able to earn 7 CNE for both the Pediatric Day and the Adult Day, with 14 CNE available to those who attended the entire spring seminar. Both days offered outstanding presentations that advanced ORL nursing practice. Attendance at this virtual event was strong. We had 47 nurses who registered for both days, 42 nurses who registered for the Pediatric Day and 20 nurses who registered for the Adult Day.

Much appreciation is sent to the Spring Seminar planning committee members: Nadine Nardello and Julia Chiappa (co-chairs of Pediatric Day), Marci Nilsen and Beth Grabiak (co-chairs of the Adult Day), Sharon Jamison (Education Coordinator) and Karen Ulmer (Accredited Provider Program Director), and our president, Vinciya Pandian. Special recognition goes to Sharon Jamison, who again, took on the primary responsibility of recording and editing all the presentations.

The next upcoming national NCPD event is our 47th Annual Congress and Nursing Symposium, being held in Nashville, Tennessee. Save the dates for Congress: September 29 through October 2, 2023. Unable to attend in-person, not a problem! We will again be offering Congress as an asynchronous hybrid format. Courses will be presented "live" at Congress, with pre-recorded presentations made available to registrants within 1-2 weeks of Congress ending for 6 weeks. Barring speaker conflicts, we plan to have all podium presentations available for virtual viewing.

The conference hotel is the Nashville Marriott at Vanderbilt University. You can book your hotel room now through a link on the Congress page of the SOHN website: www.sohnnurse.com/sohn-47th-annual-congress. We are happy to announce that the SOHN education program is being hosted by Vanderbilt University Medical Center (VUMC). VUMC is a short (0.6 mi) walk from the conference hotel, and there is also (space-limited) shuttle service. More information will be forthcoming to registrants about transportation between the hotel and VUMC.

The planning committee is also proud to announce that in addition to the Pharmacology program on Friday, September 29, we will also be welcoming back the Comprehensive ORL and Head-Neck Nursing Course on September 29. Wendy Mackey is coordinating the Comprehensive ORL and Head-Neck Nursing Course. For those new to SOHN, the Comprehensive course provides an in-depth review of basic and advanced ORL topics; a great resource to those considering achieving their CORLN certification. Both Pharmacology Day and the Comprehensive ORL and Head-Neck Nursing course are ticketed courses. Registration will be available soon on the SOHN website.

The National Education Committee is also hard at work updating and revising the SOHN School modules. Most of the modules have volunteers who have completed, or nearly completed, their initial drafts. NEC members are reviewing the drafts to ensure all information and images meet citation and copyright requirements. Once those criteria are met, the individual modules will be sent to content experts for peer review. It's taking longer than we hoped, but the membership deserves our best effort and an outstanding product that will enhance their professional practice. Simultaneously to the existing modules, the long-awaited Tracheostomy modules are being updated. We hope to have the first two tracheostomy modules ready for publication soon!

As always, the National Education Committee is looking for volunteers to assist us in providing SOHN with high-quality education programs that will enrich your professional practice and contribute to improved patient outcomes. If you are interested in learning more about what we do or joining our committee, please contact Karen Ulmer, chair NEC (fandkulmer@gmail.com) or Sharon Jamison, Education Coordinator (sharjjamsohn@gmail.com)

We hope you can join us in "Hitting the High Notes" at the SOHN 47th Annual Congress and Educational Symposium in Nashville this fall!

Health Policy and Advocacy Committee Update

Suzanne Beshore BSN MS RN CORLN

Our next HPAC meeting will be held virtually on August 17th. All SOHN membership is invited to attend!

With the end of the Federal COVID-19 Public Health Emergency, in May of 2023, came the end of several health care policies enacted to support Americans during the pandemic. Please join us in discussing the fallout from these policy changes—as well as other current healthcare related challenges—on our patients, ourselves, and/or our profession at our next meeting.

Health care policy is increasingly important to the health of our patients and to our Nursing Profession. To learn more about how you can get involved in advocacy efforts, plan to attend our SOHN HPAC meetings and visit the Health Policy and Advocacy page on the SOHN website, under the Professional Development section.

Attend the 47th Annual Congress in Nashville beginning September 29th to hear our Health Policy Speaker, Mr. Garrett Johnson, Director of Government Affairs and Chief Lobbyist at the Tennessee Nurses Association. This year, the Health Policy lecture will be held on Sunday of the conference, in order to reach more of the SOHN membership. Registration for the conference is now open. Visit the SOHN home page for more info. Hope to see you there!

Calling all SOHN members!

If you have any pictures from previous SOHN events or any upcoming online meetings that you would like to invite other members to, don't hesitate to send it in to info@sohnnurse.com today! We are always looking for more content from our members who would like to share from their perspective.

Maybe YOU could be featured in our next SOHN social media post!

Special Interest Groups Update

Regina Kahnert APRN CNP

We have had an exciting year and learned already on a variety of topics, thanks to our amazing group leaders.

I am so excited to welcome two new SIG leaders to the group. Please give a big welcome to Kristy Sands, she will be heading up our Head and Neck group. Also give a big welcome to Allegra Jackson, she will be heading up our Facial Plastics group.

We have our upcoming meetings scheduled for July on the 18th and 25th, and August 15th and 29th. These are all virtual at 7pm est.

You can register for them on our SOHN members website, they are included in your membership, and often offer a continuing education credit.

We continue to look for leaders in Advance Practice and Allergy/Sinus groups, so if you have an interest in sharing your experiences and knowledge, we would love to hear from you.

Please reach out with any questions. Thank you so much!
